POLY CYSTIC OVERIAN DISEASE

It is the innermost desire of every healthy woman to have child and look beautiful. This defines her feminineness, allure, completeness, individuality and social recognition. What if she unable to conceive, have unwanted hair growth and other complaints like menstrual disorders, acne and obesity? It is very devastating and lowers her self esteem. Polycystic ovarian disease where multiple cysts are formed in the ovary consequently the excess of androgen is being produced by ovaries. Women reproductive health and general health is interrelated. Ovarian cysts are the ripened fruits of disease phenomena not the disease. The roots are deep within. So removing the cysts would not cure the patient.

Homeopathy is based on the nature*s law that is why it is the most authentic, scientific and purest form of healing art, where portrait of disease is being formed by considering the patient *s mental, vital and physical symptoms including family predispositions. Thus it is a journey to attain individuality and restoring the health to sick to cure in a most rapid, gentle and harmless way based on easily comprehensible principle.

CASES

This is very interesting case of 20 years old female, college student consulted on 1st October 2009 for late menses. She started menstruating at the age of 17 since then her menses is late, comes after every 60 days for three day. Ovaries polycystic. PAST HISTORY – birth weight 5 kg, neonatal jaundice. Hepatitis at the age of 5. Chicken pox in 2004. In the family paternal grandparent asthmatic, maternal grandmother died of lung cancer. She is asthmatic since infancy which is aggravated by sour things; change of weather & occasionally by dust. Lots of allopathic medication for asthma in the past was taken. She sleeps in the knee elbow position since birth. Mentally she is straight forward, quarrelsome short tempered and offended easily. Likes action movies a lot. Intensely craves for sweets and warm drinks. Cannot tolerate cold drinks and ice-creams. Few doses of med., thuja and her constitutional medicine Lycopodium resolved all her complaints. After 2 months of consultation she started sleeping on her back and menses became normal. USG on 23.06.10 shown normal scan. Her asthma cured within a span of 2½ years.

The above case show that disease diagnosis and its material causes are not important in homeopathy, it is the manifestation of mental and physical symptoms in the individual play vital role in correct homeopathic prescriptions. Its medicines act on the defense mechanism & psyche of the individual. Thus the root cause of the sufferings is being annihilated.
